

SENATORS ARE DEADLOCKED IN LEAGUE DEBATE

"Treaty Will Fail If Reservations Carry."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Administration senators bluntly informed Republican Leader Lodge in the senate yesterday that the treaty will fail if a majority of the senate agrees to the League reservations.

Unless these reservations, which are now before the senate, are submitted to compromise or amendment, Senate Republicans and Democrats said the treaty will not be ratified. They pleaded with Senator Lodge to give them an opportunity to offer substitute reservations or to have a vote by the senate in ratification without reservations.

Lodge is silent.

"There isn't any chance on earth of ratifying this treaty with the reservations the committee has proposed and the senate from Massachusetts," said Senator Pittman said.

Senator Lodge made no response to these urgings except to say that he favored early action on the treaty and that the minority would be given every opportunity to offer substitute reservations before the ratification vote was taken. He declined, however, to give assurance that if the resolution as drafted by him failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote he would permit the minority to substitute reservations to their liking without the consent or approval of the majority, which is already pledged to support the reservations of the committee.

Compromise Necessary.

Senator Hitchcock said: "There is a very strong sentiment in the senate in favor of ratifying this treaty as it is and there is also a strong sentiment in favor of reservations, as well as some sentiment in favor of rejection altogether. Unless a compromise between these diverse views can be reached, the treaty cannot be ratified. Senators say we can amend these reservations which have been proposed by a majority of the committee. Yet the senator from Massachusetts has informed me and has informed others that he had the vote to hold this resolution of ratification in its present form. If that is true, the treaty is doomed to be defeated."

Senator Pittman charged Senator Lodge with attempting to deceive senators who want ratification without reservations of an opportunity of voting their convictions. Senator Lodge replied that he was willing to give his friends of the treaty every opportunity, but what he greatly desired was a vote as soon as possible.

Cummins Bill to Come Up Next

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee, yesterday received virtual assurance from Senate Leader Lodge that immediately after the peace treaty has been disposed of, the Cummins railroad bill will be taken up by the senate. Senator Cummins, in speaking of the proposition submitted by Senator Lodge and Senator Hitchcock with respect to unanimous consent agreement for a vote on the peace treaty sounded an optimistic note on the railroad situation. The Iowa senator said that the condition of the railroads at present bordered on demoralization. He said further that to return the railroads to their owners before passage of adequate protective legislation would be to invite calamity.

The senator said he had good reason to believe it is the intention of the administration to return the railroads to their owners around the first of the year.

TAD'S TID-BITS

(By International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Jim Griffin the famous western referee, accompanied by the pack and led in on his heels. Griffin had watched the boys from the days of Billy Edwards and should certainly be entitled to at least a thought in the matter.

His pick is Young Mitchell (John L. Hergert).

Young Mitchell in his day was one of the toughest fighters ever sent out of San Francisco, and if it hadn't been for his great admiration and friendship for Jack Dempsey, he might have worn the middleweight crown.

Here is what Griffin has to say: "Dear Tad, This is a Columbus Day and speaking of great fighters and some ones, I remind me of the one who, in my opinion, was the greatest we have ever seen. Christy and his crew battled but one ocean, but this battle I have reference to chose all seven seas and never lost."

Young Mitchell (Johnny Hergert) is the only fighter I am talking about. I think he was the most wonderful boxer and fighter of his time and pounds the modern prize ring has ever had. He was the sensation of the boxing world when he went to Australia. He beat Billy Murphy, afterward featherweight champion, in six rounds, knocking him for a ghoul. He also beat Pete Holan who outweighed him fifteen pounds.

Just as soon as the names of such other illustrious fighters who dropped before him, and see if you and your legion of readers will not agree with me when I say he was in a class by himself. Here are a few of his victims: Red Gallagher, Paddy Smith, George LeBlanc.

Young Mitchell was never knocked out before him, and never even knocked off his feet. Remember the time they were trying to arrange the Mitchell-Jack Dempsey fight. Dempsey's followers wanted a $10,000 side bet. The money was covered on the day by Old Man Calahan in Herndon's season in twenty minutes. I begged him to take the match. It is a good thing for Dempsey that the paid me. I saw him in the ring of his fight.

Yours truly, JIM GRIFFIN

Problems of the Heart

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man 23 years of age. Until now I have had very little to do with lady friends, as my intentions were to wait till I reached the age of 25 and then find a girl and settle down.

Just three months today I have been keeping steady company with a girl of 16 and she has changed my views. In spite of her age I have found her to be a very sensible girl who is capable of exercising good judgment.

Having obtained a position here she is boarding, as her mother lives 25 miles distant. We love each other very much and although we are not engaged we are true to each other. I have been out with no other girl in three months and when I suggested that she go with me to other fellows she absolutely refused.

I feel that I have met the girl I would like to marry and she feels the same toward me. I would prefer waiting a while, but don't want to lose this girl. On the other hand, I have regarded a difference in our religious quite seriously at times. I am a poor church member, whereas she attends regularly. She contends this should not stand between us and that as far as she is concerned she is satisfied and that is up to me.

If my present friendship should continue up to Christmas what would be an appropriate gift?

How long before marriage is an engagement ring given?

IN EARNEST

Both of you are too young to consider marriage on so short an acquaintance. Continue to be friends a few months longer and the you can love more sure of your love. You should be friends a year before you become engaged.

Flowers and candy would be very appropriate for her Christmas gift. You might prefer to give her a book.
